I feel a burning sensation under my chin

A hot and dark red liquid starts from my chin and flows down my neck. It passes my thighs towards my feet

I attempt hemostasis, but it's difficult. Having to strangle my own neck... It's a little funny

A slight dizziness clouds my judgment

Was it necessary?
If I hadn't...cough! No one would have taken your strange demand seriously.
If the condition for your demand was for just one doctor to be sent up, everyone would've thought you were crazy and wouldn't have given in.
However, if I were injured, they'd do anything to save me. Because people are petrified by blood.

You could've faked an injury. You didn't have to actually hurt yourself. Why'd you do it?

@#$!%!

I see myself bleeding from my neck on TV.
It's odd looking at myself drenched in blood and holding a strange picket.
My ears hurt from the loud blabbering of the reporter.

There's someone I must meet before I die.

HOMESICK

- 11 -

The bleeding seems severe. Are you sure you're okay?

I don't know... Cough! I may have cut a little too deep.

Why are you so suicidal? I don't understand.
A person who wants his arms and legs amputated shouldn't say that.

Now that I think about it... You've died before, right?
What?
You said you died and was resurrected. How is it over there?
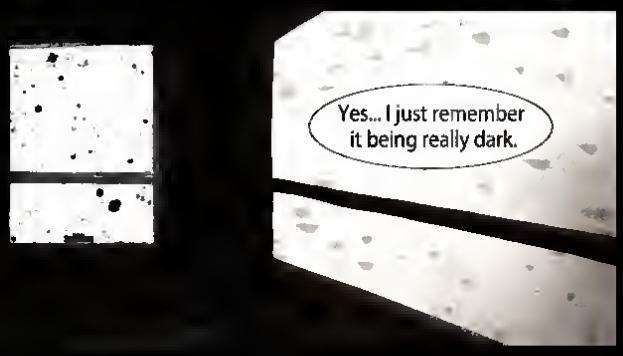
...I don't remember... It was...dark.
Dark?

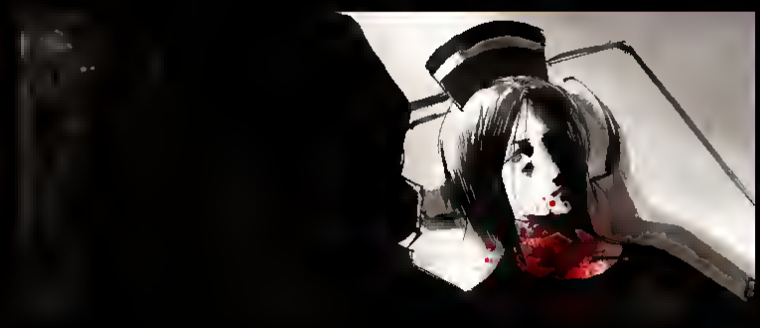


Yes... I just remember it being really dark.

How dark?

It was as though I were all alone in a room.

There was nothing there.
I couldn't feel anything.
I couldn't hear myself screaming.
I couldn't see anything.
It was... that dark



...Thank you.
You reassured me.

What?
At the very least, it's less dark there than here.

One hour. If a doctor doesn't show up within an hour,
I'll die of blood loss
